TED Full Support to Education Scholarship Program Start

TED University's parent organization Turkish Education Association provides scholarships to successful students who do not have access to a qualified education due to financial difficulties. Since its establishment in 1928, the Turkish Education Association aims "to contribute to equal opportunities in education and to educate well-equipped generations", providing scholarships to successful students with limited financial means.

Full Support Scholarship is granted to academically successful students who study at public schools and have limited financial means. In addition to academic and psycho-social follow-up of these students, activities are organized to support their social and cultural development.

Within the scope of the Full Support Scholarship;

- Student's transition to the interview stage is assessed by considering the score obtained from High School Entrance Exam,
- Candidates who receive positive evaluations by the Turkish Education Association are included in the scholarship system,
- Students' are given book-stationery, clothing and pocket money support,
- Besides academic support, students are given sports and arts trainings determined by specialist educators,
- A free shuttle service is provided for the transportation of students in all activities to be held within the scope of the Full Support Scholarship,
- Students are allowed to participate in cultural and art activities (ballet, theater, opera, concerts, etc.) during their scholarship period,
- Students' personal development is supported by seminars given by experts,
- Students with disabilities who are included in the Full Support Scholarship benefit from all the facilities mentioned above, and in addition to this, a special service is provided for the students.

The 2021-2022 academic year of the English education program of the Full Support Scholarship Program, carried out in cooperation with the Turkish Education Association (TED) and TED University, started with the first online courses. In the program, which will be carried out online in the fall due to the pandemic, 9th, 10th and 11th-grade high school students in Adana, Ankara, Diyarbakır, İzmir, and Malatya have had the opportunity to come together in English lessons coordinated by the Department of TEDU English Language Teaching.

Hello Tomorrow Turkey Challenge 2021

At the event on 6 July 2021 Turkey's best science and technology-developing startups met with international innovators and VCs. We aim to create benefits for Turkish entrepreneurs and to strengthen the local entrepreneurship ecosystem by transferring the experiences of leading deep tech entrepreneurs in the international arena to Turkey, by hosting about 300 of the best innovators.

The finalist startups pitched their innovative solutions at Hello Tomorrow Turkey Challenge 2021 in front of our prestigious jury members, who are leaders in their respective technology fields and who selected the Top 3 Turkey winners. The winning startups will participate in the Hello Tomorrow Global Summit, one of the world's largest science and technology entrepreneurship initiatives, on December 2 – 3 2021 in Paris and will meet over 200 international technology investors. These entrepreneurs will have the opportunity to develop and promote their businesses and create important sales channels.

Dr. Sanem Yalçıntaş, Director of Research & Technology & Innovation, TED University participated to the event as a guest speaker.

2 Zero Hunger

TEDU Contributes to the Food Innovation Platform of Turkey

The Food Innovation Platform of Turkey, TÜGİP was established within the scope of INNOFOOD Project, Development of Research and Innovation Facilities for Improving the Regional Competitiveness of the Food Industry. TÜGİP was founded under the leadership of TÜBİTAK MAM Food Institute in the year 2020.

The primary goal of TÜGİP is to strengthen the SMEs and startups within the food sector through building their capacities for R&D and innovation activities, and furthermore, invigorating their competitive advantage in national and international markets.

TÜGİP provides R&D, innovation, infrastructure, technology road maps, and network opportunities to its members. Nevertheless, becoming a member of TÜGİP is not limited only to SMEs and startups. Private sector companies, academics, and the various stakeholders of the food sector may become members of the Platform. The ultimate objective of TÜGİP is to reach an equal-participatory governance structure that covers all Turkey.

Dr. Sanem Yalçıntaş, Director of Research & Technology & Innovation, TED University contributed to the studies of the Food Innovation Platform of Turkey as a key consultant.

3 Good Health and Well-Being

TEDU supports students and employees' coping with the pandemic

TED University Coronavirus Psycho-Social Support Team, TEDU COPEs, was established to serve our University students and staff during the COVID-19 pandemic; It is a psychosocial support group that aims to facilitate coping with the difficulties in psychological, social, familial and academic/professional life that may arise due to the conditions brought by the epidemic.

TEDU COPEs is an organization that came together voluntarily under the coordination of TEDU Psychology Department, but aims to provide professional service.

The main purpose of TEDU COPEs is to provide psychosocial support to TED University students and staff during the coronavirus epidemic. In this context, it aims to provide early support to crisis situations that may arise during the coronavirus epidemic, to activate and strengthen your coping strategies and resources, and to provide information on your access to necessary resources.

TEDU COPEs, which has been serving since May 15, 2020, still continues its psychosocial support activities.

Different families exist!

The narrow scope of the “ideal” family discourses, and the impact of heteronormative and patriarchal structure in its definition, have been brought into question, and many academics, activists, and scientists have begun to think about alternative definitions, forms, experiences, and relationships.

TEDU Center for Gender Studies and Ankara Gokkuşagi Aileleri Derneği organized a webinar. Notable academics working at the intersection of family and gender, and activists from various LGBTI+ and feminist NGOs, were invited to participate in a two-day workshop titled as “Different Families Exist.” The workshop included twelve presenters, seven individuals sharing their experiences, and six moderators. In different sessions, presenters addressed what the “ideal” family understanding is, how the family is understood and defined in terms of social policies and social services, how the family is defined in civil, labor, and criminal law in both Turkey and worldwide and the existence and possibilities of “other” family definitions and structures.

6 Clean Water and Sanitation

Geomembrane to save water

Water and water resources are becoming more and more important. Geomembrane is generally utilized to prevent water leaking beneath the soils, but it has recently been used as a final layer in ponds, tunnels, municipal landfills and similar applications according to their features. Dr. Şehram Dizeci from the Department of Mechanical Engineering designed a robot to apply this welding on geomembranes and it plays a critical role in water resource security. The geomembranes are in the form of thin and long layers which should be welded at the site with fusion or extrusion welding methods. These machines are continuously developing, and they are now carrying the name of the robot due to implementing closed-loop control systems. In this project, a new wedge welder robot has been designed and manufactured using new technologies.

Dr. Dizeci's project was funded by KOSGEB research and development program which started on 01.05.2019 and ended on 30.08.2021.

Prof. Çelebioğlu became chief editor of the prestigious journal

Prof. Selin Aradağ Çelebioğlu was appointed as the “Editor-in-chief” of the “Journal of Thermal Sciences and Technology”.

The journal started its publication in 1977 with the aim of encouraging the development of heat science and technology and enabling the publication of original, theoretical, numerical and experimental papers in its field, is published twice a year in April and October. Original and compilation articles on the subject of heat science and technology are included and each article is evaluated by at least two referees who are experts in their field.

Social Incubation at IstasyonTEDU

IstasyonTEDU supports social entrepreneurs through its Social Incubation Program (SIP) since September 2016. SIP provides a combination of non-financial support mechanisms such as access to co-working office space, meeting facilities, mentorship, network and visibility support, business development support, training opportunities, fiscal sponsorship within the range of 12-18 months.

Program provides customized solutions for different needs. To date, 19 initiatives have been supported through the incubation program and 120 other have been supported through support services. Program accepts applications all year and is open to individual or team applications.

TEDU participates to Hello Turkey Tomorrow

At the event on 6 July 2021 Turkey's best science and technology-developing startups met with international innovators and VCs. We aim to create benefits for Turkish entrepreneurs and to strengthen the local entrepreneurship ecosystem by transferring the experiences of leading deep tech entrepreneurs in the international arena to Turkey, by hosting about 300 of the best innovators.

The finalist startups pitched their innovative solutions at Hello Tomorrow Turkey Challenge 2021 in front of our prestigious jury members, who are leaders in their respective technology fields and who selected the Top 3 Turkey winners. The winning startups will participate in the Hello Tomorrow Global Summit, one of the world's largest science and technology entrepreneurship initiatives, on December 2 – 3 2021 in Paris and will meet over 200 international technology investors. These entrepreneurs will have the opportunity to develop and promote their businesses and create important sales channels.

Dr. Sanem Yalçıntaş, Director of Research & Technology & Innovation, TED University participated to the event as a guest speaker.

11 Sustainable Cities and Communities

Kurtulus Park Project for Ankara!

Ankara Metropolitan Municipality Mayor Mansur YAVAŞ and TED University Rector Prof. Dr. With the protocol signed by Belgin AYVAŞIK, Kurtuluş Park will turn into a living space where Ankara residents and students can move safely 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

The goal for Kurtuluş Park, which is located in the College District, named after TED Ankara College, is to provide citizens with a social living space with open classrooms, library and bicycle paths intertwined with art and culture. After the project, which will be developed by protecting the green area of the park with an environmentalist approach, Ankara will organize meetings with exhibitions, concerts and outdoor activities in this well-established park. Not only students in the Kurtuluş Region, but schools from all over the capital will be able to hold their lessons in open-air classrooms, intertwined with bird sounds and nature.

13 Climate Action

How to talk about climate crisis with kids?

TEDU Copes publishes a psychoeducational guide on how to communicate with children about the climate crisis.

Climate changes are associated with various extreme weather conditions and disasters such as fire, drought, flood, and excessive precipitation all over the world. After disasters, we can feel helpless and hopeless. Our omissions and losses can make us angry. Taking concrete steps in such times supports us to rediscover the power within us. It helps us to feel like an active, active and strong individual by removing us from the passive and helpless state that we can often experience after a disaster.

Extinguishing the fire anxiety of kids

TEDU Copes publishes a psychoeducational guide on how to communicate with children about fires.

How children are informed about disasters greatly affects their post-disaster experiences. It is important that they are informed in an age-appropriate way that they can comprehend and that does not exceed their coping capacity.

TEDU educates human rights defenders of future

Supported by the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands Human Rights Programme, Human Rights Defenders project aims to raise the youth aged between 14-18 in Turkey as prospective human rights defenders. In line with this aim, a number of high school students and their teachers will be trained on historical, legal, and political context and specific content of chosen international conventions and they will be brought together with national and international counterparts who have taken lead roles in advocating human rights. Additionally, this project aims to develop human rights awareness among this age group through disseminating conventional educational material and game-based teaching material.
